Gauteng Convention & Events Bureau membership:

- Members of the International Congress and Convention Association (ICCA) have access to the wealth of information contained in the ICCA database of key international meetings, allowing them to benchmark themselves against their industry peers. Gauteng as a convention destination can also compare itself to other long-haul convention cities. The endorsement by ICCA is what has contributed to the success of Gauteng being able to attract foreign event organizations which ultimately leads to economic growth and job creation.
- The Southern African Association for the Conference Industry (SAACI) stays at the forefront of the latest industry trends and developments and constantly informs members, but also serves as an industry mouthpiece to government and other organised bodies. SAACI membership is not only an indicator that business maintains a certain level of professionalism, but it offers quality networking opportunities.
- DMAI - Destination Marketing Association International.

Gauteng is one of the nine provinces in South Africa, and boasts rich history that is mostly laid on fountains of a precious resource – gold. Because of this, it’s a powerhouse province and South Africa’s economic hub, accounting for a third of the country’s gross domestic product. ‘Laid back’ does not describe this province or it’s major city, Johannesburg. Gauteng is where time is money and dreams are realised. Gauteng as we know it today was formed from a part of the old Transvaal Province after South Africa’s first democratic elections in 1994. Gauteng is clearly the place where everyone wants to be: as of 2011, it had a population of nearly 12.3 million, making it the most populous province in South Africa. It is also the smallest province in South Africa, accounting for only 1.5% of the land area.

Gauteng Facts:

- Seat of the Government of South Africa
- Gauteng Province is the economic business epicentre of South Africa
- Large concentration of meeting and events venues, capable of handling a large variety of events
- Presence of world-renowned academic institutions and strong research industry
- Gauteng has multiple convention and exhibition centres spread across the different regions
- Gauteng Province provides leisure opportunities to delegates, a wide range of offerings for incentives and pre and post tours.
- There are excellent dining, entertainment and nightlife, shopping venues available to delegates
- The financial-services sector is a significant part of Gauteng’s economy, contributing 21% of provincial GDP in 2010.
- More than 70 local banks, a number of investment houses (both domestic and international) and trading firms etc. are headquartered in Gauteng.
- The JSE Securities Exchange is the largest stock exchange in Africa and consistently ranks in the world’s top 20 derivatives exchanges by number of contracts traded.
- Gauteng is manufacturing sector has over 900 firms and has capabilities across a number of industries, such as:
  - Heavy steel industry
  - Automotive assembly and parts
  - Food and beverages
  - Light industry
- Gauteng has some of South Africa’s and the world’s leading medical institutions, renowned for their innovation and research capabilities.
- Gauteng’s sports infrastructure, including systems for sport management, coaches and officials etc. are among the best in South Africa.

Gauteng Convention and Events Bureau Services Overview

- Services
Gauteng’s public transport system is currently undergoing something of a revolution, beginning with the Gautrain and Rea Vaya rapid bus system. The Gautrain is well patronised by residents and tourists alike on its Pretoria to O.R Tambo International route, with Rea Vaya buses extending routes into the suburbs. However, driving still remains the order of the day in Gauteng, and renting a car, or using metered cabs is very much advised. South Africans drive on the left side of the road, and drivers must have an international driver’s licence and a minimum of five years’ driving experience to hire a car in South Africa.

CBD
If you find yourself in the CBD, you should orientate yourself from the main transport hub of Park Station. From there, take a taxi to your destination. The trips are not for the faint-hearted, as taxis can travel at high speed and stop wherever passengers wish to disembark – usually with little warning. A system of hand signals is used to indicate your desired destination.

Soweto
Reach Soweto by boarding a Rea Vaya bus at Park Station. Buses run every five to 16 minutes on weekends and every 20 to 30 minutes on weekdays. Once in Soweto, stick to Vilakazi Street, where there is rich pickings in terms of sights, history, restaurants, and the Mandela Museum.

Sandton
At the beginning of your foray into the suburb of Sandton, it is likely that you will find yourself at the Sandton Gautrain Station (15 minutes journey from Park Station). From there, you can catch a feeder bus into the suburbs, or hail a metered cab, which is a safe and convenient option.

Cradle of Humankind
Gauteng’s secondary airport, Lanseria, is 30km northwest of the CBD and is used by an increasing number of budget airlines. Minibus taxis and metered cabs don’t tend to wait at this airport, so either arrange a transfer with your accommodation, or rent a car. Maropeng, the official visitor centre of the Cradle of Humankind, is a 30 minute / 21km drive from Lanseria.

Tshwane
You can arrive in Tshwane quite easily using the Gautrain, from O.R Tambo International Airport (45 minutes). Once you disembark the train, you will need to hail a metered cab, or pre-arrange with your accommodation to have a shuttle meet you. You will need to rent a car to explore Tshwane, or use the service of a cab.

Ekurhuleni, Vaal and Dinokeng
For ease of movement around these hubs, one should either rent a car or simply join a tour.

The Gautrain Rapid Rail Link is the first rapid rail network in Africa. The rail connection comprises two links, one between Tshwane and Johannesburg and the other between OR Tambo International Airport and Sandton. The system offers fast, convenient, safe and efficient public transport service. It takes 15 minutes to travel from Sandton to OR Tambo International Airport on the Gautrain and 35 minutes from Tshwane to Park Station in Johannesburg. In 2014, the Gautrain’s airport service (Sandton to OR Tambo International Airport) was improved with earlier trains in the mornings and later trains in the evenings.

THE GAUTRAIN
The Gautrain’s airport link recently competed with the best in the industry and around the world in customer service and was awarded the Global Air Rail Award for excellence in customer service by the Global Air Rail Alliance in Oslo. The GARA awards are international awards dedicated to the air-rail industry, recognising the best practice in intermodal travel around the world. The awards also look for the best examples of delivering an enjoyable and stress-free journey from air to rail travel. Some of the finalists included Birmingham Airport (UK), Flytoget (Oslo, Norway) and Canada Line (Vancouver, Canada).

A cash-free ticketing system and the use of reloadable smart cards, makes travelling on the Gautrain quick and convenient. Passengers can buy their Gold Cards at any Gautrain ticket office or Gautrain station. Buses and shuttles are available to transport passengers during weekdays to and from all stations excluding the OR Tambo International Airport station.

The background to the design of the themes of the 10 stations along the Gautrain route portrays the diverse South African resources, technology, economy and culture. Park Station represents mining, Rosebank is retail, Sandton is commerce, Marlboro Station is music, art and culture, Rhodesfield Station is industry, OR Tambo International Station is a tribute to the nation, Midrand is gateway to Gauteng, Centurion is sports, Pretoria station is rail history and Hatfield station represents academia. Gauteng Facts

CURRENCY

The unit of currency is the rand (ZAR), known informally as the "randel," because notes bear the image of former president Nelson Mandela. There are 100c in each rand. Banknotes are issued in denominations of R200, R100, R50, R20 and R10. Coins come in R5, R2, R1, 50c, 20c, 10c and 5c. All prices are rounded off to the nearest 5c.

ALCOHOL

South Africa is a paradise for wine lovers. There are countless wine producers and brands, and the bottles you will find in stores and supermarkets are more than affordable, especially compared with European prices. Wine can be bought in supermarkets and "bottle stores," and the local and imported beers and spirits only at "bottle stores." A wide variety of local beers are produced by South African Breweries, and there is an established craft beer industry.

CLIMATE

Gauteng has sunny days and, less frequently, not-so-sunny days. The seasons mostly blend into each other, with summer stretching from November to March and milder temperatures setting in from April to May. Winter starts in June and lasts until August. Spring (September and October) is brief, and you'll know it by the distinctive purple haze that permeates the johannesburg beds across the city's northern suburbs. Summer temperatures average 25°C (77°F), with winter days dropping to a low of around 15°C (59°F). Winter nights can dip to 4°C (39°F). Gautengers feel the cold quite intensely. Summer is when it rains and Gauteng has its trademark afternoon thunderstorms, with spectacular lightning displays and the occasional rainbow to match.

VALUE ADDED TAX (VAT)

A tax of 14% levied on all consumer goods and services, except some basic foodstuffs. Prices generally include VAT unless this amount is separately stated. Non-resident foreign passport holders can claim a VAT refund. Two refund offices are located in international departures halls of O.R. Tambo International Airport. Present your purchases and tax invoices for inspection. See www.taxrefunds.co.za for full details.

SOUTH AFRICAN LINGO

While English is the lingua franca, cultural diversity has created a South African language of its own. Key words include:

- Biltong - Like beef jerky, just much better
- Boerewors - Sausage made with minced meat and spices
- Born-free - Child born after the advent of democracy in 1994
- Braai - Both the act of coal-grilling meat, and the event at which it is eaten
- Bro or Boet - Brother, meaning friend
- Braai - How are you? Ja - Yes (originally Afrikaans) Jaal - To go out on the town
- Lekker - Tasty or cool
- Mzansi - A Zulu word meaning "south," used to refer to South Africa
- Pap - A stiff porridge made with maize-meal and best served with a tomato-and-onion gravy or a meat stew. It is a South African staple
- Sho't left - A stop close by, derived from taxi-commuter lingo
- Spaza shop - An informal convenience store
- Tsktsk - An informal greeting
- Yebo - Yes (in Zulu)

BANKING

South Africa has a modern and sophisticated banking system. Foreign currency can be exchanged at most retail banks (found in most shopping centres) and bureaux de change. ATMs are widely available. Major credit and debit cards (Visa and MasterCard are the most widely accepted) can be used at most retail and hospitality establishments. The four major retail banks are Absa (www.absa.co.za), First National Bank (FNB) (www.fnb.co.za), Nedbank (www.nedbank.co.za) and Standard Bank (www.standardbank.co.za).
Crime and Safety

The truth about safety is a shifting reality. A lot of opportunistic crime takes place in dense city neighbourhoods and in suburban neighbourhoods, where homes are targeted. You’ll notice the ubiquitous guard huts, electric fencing and private-security patrol cars in the wealthier northern suburbs, and the razor wire in less affluent areas. Over the years people have become unselfconscious about adding security features to their homes. Our advice is to be aware rather than paranoid. As in any other modern metropolis, you need to use your head, know where you’re going, and not flash your cash or valuables around. Consult a local to get a head’s up, but walk away if they’re the type to tell you that the city is a no-go area – you have just chosen the wrong local. When you plan your first walk around the inner-city, consider a tour with one of the many knowledgeable guides who can be used at half price from 19:00–23:00 on Sundays and public holidays.

Languages

South Africa has 11 official languages: Afrikaans, English, Ndebele, Northern Sotho, Sepedi, Setswana, Tshivenda, Tswana, Tsonga, Venda, Xhosa and Zulu. Most South Africans speak more than one language, but city life happens in English. Apart from the official languages, Joburg is home to a babel of language communities from across the globe. Jobsurgers love their cellphones, and you’ll see kids as young as 10 with their own phones. There are four major cellphone networks and each offer pay-as-you-go, as well as contract call and data options. The network providers have stores in all major shopping centres, and airtime can be purchased at supermarkets and petrol stations.

Communication and Internet access

The local dialling code for Johannesburg landline numbers is 011. For calls outside the country or from your cell phone it is +27 11. Numbers starting with 086 can only be dialled locally. For directory information, dial 1023 from a landline. Joburgers love their cellphones, and you’ll see kids as young as 10 with their own phones. Media
South Africa has a free press. There are many local and national newspaper titles, and public and commercial radio and TV channels. The country ranked 52nd out of 179 countries in Reporters Without Borders’ 2013 press freedom index.

Weekly Newspapers: City Press (www.citypress.co.za), and Sunday Times (www.timeslive.co.za/sundaytimes, online for subscribers only) are broadsheets. Mail&Guardian (www.mg.co.za) is a leader in investigative reporting.

Radio
There are more than 30 local stations. Radio 702 (92.7 FM) for talk radio; for music, try 5FM (98.0), Kaya FM. (95.9) and Highweld Stereo (94.7).

Television: SABC (www.sabc.co.za), is the public broadcaster. eTV and eNCA (www.etv.co.za and www.enca.com) are free-to-air channels. M-Net is a subscription channel and DStv (mnet.dstv.com) a satellite television provider.

Tipping
Apart from the usual recipients, such as restaurant servers and petrol attendants, there’s a plethora of people waiting for (and depending on) a tip: baggage handlers, car guards, city-council workers, security guards, beggars, newspaper sellers and roadside salespeople. Most will happily accept a few rand (small coins might be sniffed at). For good service at restaurants, 10% of the bill is the minimum, and expect to dole out between R5 and R10 to petrol attendants.

Alcohol
South Africa is a paradise for wine lovers. It has countless wine producers and brands, and the bottles you will find in stores and supermarkets are more than affordable, especially compared with European prices. Wine can be bought in supermarkets and ‘bottle stores’, and local and imported beers and spirits only at bottle stores. A wide variety of local beers are produced by South African Breweries, and there is an established craft-beer industry.

Electricity
Electricity is supplied at 220 volts and 50 hertz throughout South Africa by the state-owned company Eskom, and is subject to occasional shortages. Valuable electronics should be used in combination with a surge protector, available at large supermarkets, where you can also find converters for the bulky three-pronged plugs used locally.

Ekurhuleni

Africa’s Aerotropolis

Cultural Diversity

Hotel Heaven

Means “Place Of Peace”

[O. R. Tambo International Airport]
Step off an aircraft at O.R. Tambo International Airport and you have arrived in the City of Ekurhuleni. Ultra-modern O.R Tambo International Airport compares well with the best international airports in the world, with state-of-the-art infrastructure and world-class hotels dotted around the airport.

Ekurhuleni is Africa’s Aerotropolis, with aviation being the 21st century’s physical connectivity of a giant airport city and business hub. Spectacular freeway networks link Gauteng’s metropolitan municipalities, coming together at the Gillooly’s interchange in Ekurhuleni, where the national roads merge, moving on to the outlying ports and cities, transporting goods to and from the airport.

Ekurhuleni has more than 200 conference centres, a huge choice of first-class accommodation, and telecommunication technology with global connectivity, rendering the city an ideal place for business tourism.

Boasting a diverse leisure offering with well over 206 wetlands and lakes, signature golf estates like Serengeti and Glendower Golf Estates, mega shopping malls like Eastgate Mall and Bedford Centre, and historic and cultural sites like the OR Tambo Precinct; the City of Ekurhuleni is a haven for visitors seeking a variety in experience.

Why come to Ekurhuleni?

Ekurhuleni – Africa’s Aerotropolis – is home to the biggest airport in Africa: OR Tambo International Airport. Criss-crossed with world-class rail and road infrastructure, it saves time and costs. Come conference with us at one of our world-class conference facilities around the airport.

With over 206 wetlands and lakes - Ekurhuleni is home to several areas of irreplaceable and highly significant biodiversity including rare wetlands that foster an assortment of fauna and flora, and over 360 bird species.

Ekurhuleni boasts over 16 signature golf courses like Serengeti and Glendower – official host of the South African Golf Open Championship.

Ekurhuleni has a proud heritage, particularly in South Africa’s freedom struggle. Some of the fascinating heritage sites are the OR Tambo Narrative Centre based in one of the best “green” buildings in South Africa, and the Thokoza Wall of Remembrance, commemorating thousands of South Africans who died for the struggle.

Two of the early Boeing 747 Jumbo Aircraft acquired by South African Airways are on permanent display at the SA Aviation Museum – the only one of its kind in the Southern Hemisphere – located at the Rand Airport, South Africa’s first international airport.

Street Culture and Art in Africa
Now proudly taking its place as Africa’s second-largest city, Johannesburg is growing at an unprecedented rate – constantly and continuously transforming itself. It is the financial and industrial capital of South Africa, the economic powerhouse of Africa, and was founded in the heyday of one of the world’s biggest and richest gold rushes - earning it the name of Etopi, meaning ‘place of gold’.

Johannesburg offers a plethora of cultural, leisure, sporting, fashion and lifestyle activities. The city’s legendary shopping, dining, entertainment and nightlife is complemented by fabulous weather as well as an astonishing array of facilities that add to its appeal as a destination.

South Africa’s only stock exchange, the Johannesburg Securities Exchange (JSE), rates as one of the top exchanges in the world in market capitalization. Johannesburg is the world’s largest city not situated on a river, lake or coastline. Johannesburg Convention Bureau is responsible for promoting Joburg as a business-events destination, providing diverse innovative options and ensuring that patrons leave with memorable experiences that last a lifetime. The JCB bids with partners for major international business events to be hosted in Johannesburg, providing all the necessary support services to attract these events and ensuring their superb execution. A versatile business and mega-events destination, Johannesburg is capable of handling a vast array of events - from small meetings to massive international gatherings, conventions, concerts, sports tournaments and mega-events.

60%

The city is home to 60% of South Africa’s information communication technology enterprises. Johannesburg hosted the International Broadcast Centre during the 2010 Soccer World Cup.

64%

There are over 12,488 graded hotel rooms in Johannesburg, all catering for a variety of budgets.

WORLD-CLASS VENUES

With over 130 world class venues of varying capacity, fabulous hotels and infrastructure – supported by a sophisticated and competitive service industry – you will be spoilt for choice.

Economic hub of the country with key industries housed with the city.

Johannesburg enjoys plenty of sunshine (an average of 12 hours per day) and very little wind.
Gallagher Convention Centre

Gallagher Convention Centre is one of Africa’s largest conference and exhibition venues. Located in Midrand, between Pretoria and Johannesburg, Gallagher is conveniently positioned in the business hub of Gauteng. With five purpose-built ground floor exhibition venues offering approximately 25 000m² of exhibition space, nineteen multipurpose venues and state-of-the-art facilities, Gallagher Convention Centre can accommodate anywhere from two to 12 000 visitors.

Gallagher Convention Centre has 12 versatile conference and boardrooms, the Gallagher Grill, a ballroom, an auditorium and various tranquil venues for intimate celebrations.

Thaba Eco Hotel

Closer to the buzz of Johannesburg and yet more tranquil than you would ever believe, the welcoming 4-star Thaba Eco Hotel nestles into the green hills and valleys of the Klipriviersberg. Our Tswana-inspired standard and deluxe rooms and suites marry design elements of ancient kraals, bush huts and traditional homesteads; offering luxury and comfort against a backdrop of natural beauty plus passionate service-oriented hospitality. Thaba Eco Hotel is equally suited for high-end corporate events as for weddings, concerts, birthdays, baptisms and other celebrations. We offer professional conference, function and wedding coordinators; magnificent venues both large and small; and easy access to the highway, the Johannesburg and Sandton CBDs, and nearby cultural attractions. We’re also authentically committed to ecology and conservation.

Why Tshwane?

Welcome to Tshwane, the heartbeat of South Africa. The city is named after Chief Tshwane. Tshwane means ‘We are all the same’ in Setswana, one of the country’s 11 official languages.

The new Tshwane is the single largest metropolitan municipality in South Africa, covering an area of 8,368 km². It has 105 wards, 210 councillors and about 2.5 million residents, and is divided into seven regions. Tshwane is now also the third largest city in the world in terms of land mass, after New York and Tokyo/Yokohama.

Tshwane is a progressive city that harmoniously blends its African roots with European traditions. An interesting blend of neoclassic, Victorian-colonial, modern and African architectural design features gives Tshwane a cosmopolitan character. The city is indeed a meeting place of many cultures. Many historic buildings, monuments and museums tell the story of a colourful and often turbulent past.

Being the home of 132 foreign embassies and missions, as well as housing all of the national government departments, this destination is ideally geared and best situated to meet the needs of visitors.

The city, as the hub for science and technology, knowledge, and industry, receives a high number of national and international delegations and hosts various conferences and conventions related to these sectors.

City of Tshwane is the largest metropolitan municipality in South Africa and the third-largest city in the world in terms of land mass, after New York and Tokyo/Yokohama.

It is home to 134 embassies and is therefore a world-renowned meeting place of diplomats, government officials and business people, and a cultural melting pot of the world.

134 EMBASSIES

It is the knowledge capital of the continent, with its high concentration of academics, learning institutions, researchers and scientists.

Tshwane is the only city in the world with a Big 5 game reserve within its boundaries.

The region is affectionately known as the Home of Jazz, with one of its largest townships named Mamelodi, which means ‘Mother of Melodies’.

Why come to Tshwane?

134 Embassies
CSIR International Convention Centre

The CSIR International Convention Centre (CSIR ICC) is located in Tshwane, the academic, science and research hub of South Africa. The CSIR ICC offers superb facilities and quality service with conference, function and exhibition venues that can accommodate events of 500 to as little as 10 delegates and guests, with groups as large as 1 000 being accommodated at times. Additional facilities available are: interpreting booths and equipment in both auditoriums, VIP holding suite, first-aid facility and optional emergency medical services, authors’ restroom linked to the Diamond Auditorium podium, free Wi-Fi access throughout all facilities and ample complimentary parking. Kwalata Game Ranch

Kwalata Game Ranch is an owner-managed eco-lodge, situated in the northern Gauteng Province, within the Dinokeng Big 5 Game Reserve. Originally established in 1994 as a youth camp that focused on environmental education and leadership development, Kwalata has proudly expanded over the years to further becoming a vibrant lodge. We have two fully equipped conference rooms within our main camp, as well as a third satellite conference room. Our 31 en-suite rooms and chalets are cozy and comfortable and we are renowned for our delicious, wholesome, and truly South African buffet meals.

Our venue also boasts beautiful lush gardens, much commented on as an oasis within the bushveld setting, and a unique stone chapel amidst indigenous Tamboti trees, which has ensured our success in also becoming a popular wedding venue.

West Rand

Majestic Magaliesberg

Mineral Mining Region
Fine Dining Delight
Why West Rand?

The West Rand District Municipality (WRDM) comprises four local municipalities, namely Randfontein, Mogale City, Westonaria and Merafong City.

The West Rand, situated on the western side of Gauteng, stretches from the Magaliesberg mountain range in the north, to the N12 in the south, and along the meandering Crocodile River. The region is well serviced with resorts and activities that cater for visitors looking for tranquility or adventure. The West Rand is less than 45 minutes’ drive along excellent highways from Sandton (N1), Pretoria (N14/R28) and Johannesburg. It is also close to international and local airports.

The West Rand’s heritage, dating back millions of years, attracts visitors from across the globe. The unspoilt wilderness is protected by legislation and is carefully managed to preserve both historic and ecological legacies. The Witwatersrand “Ridge of White Waters” is 1,760m above sea level. The area provides the largest inland water system in South Africa with rain water flowing into both the Indian and Atlantic oceans.

The Witwatersrand Sequence is a combination of gold-bearing quartzite and shale. Two of the earliest gold mines in South Africa can be visited at Kromdraai and Magaliesburg, where guided tours reveal the lives of these early pioneers.

Soft dolomite has led to the earliest evidence of the discovery of man, and to the declaration of the Cradle of Humankind as a World Heritage Site. It is a 47,000 hectare area about 45km north-west of Johannesburg. Fossil findings throw light onto early human ancestors and their relatives, dating back more than 3.4 million years. The Sterkfontein excavation has been active since 1966, making it the world’s longest sustained palaeoanthropological excavation.

INTO THE EARTH

The West Rand forms part of the Cradle of Humankind, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, where evidence of hominid habitation has been documented stretching back some two million years. A trip to Maropeng, the visitor centre for the Cradle of Humankind is a wonderful opportunity to learn more about the origins of human beings through their self-guided exhibition. The area has produced a wealth of fossil remains, including those of Australopithecus sediba, while a tour of the famous Sterkfontein Caves makes for a memorable family excursion.

Gold mining on the West Rand began in 1933 with the discovery of the carbon leader reef. Western Deep is the world’s deepest mining shaft, plunging some 3.6km into the earth. Guided tours of two of South Africa’s gold mines at Kromdraai and Magaliesburg are both geologically and historically informative.

Birdwatchers are sure to add a few interesting bird sightings to their lists, and the more adventurous visitors will revel in a hot air balloon ride, microlighting adventure, fly-fishing or rock-climbing expedition.

Hiking and horse-riding trails are also in abundance, and there are stretches of off-road land for quad-biking and cycling.

Lanseria International Airport offers an alternative point of entry to the West Rand, which also has a stunning casino.

Wild West Country Festival

The Wild West Country Fest is a full blooded country music and entertainment event which will be presented in a nostalgic environment reminiscent of the 1880’s and 1890’s when the West Rand was synonymous with mining camps and prospectors from as far afield as Cornwall, Canada, Australia and Holland. These early pioneers, who were referred to as roughnecks, came to seek their fortunes as gold diggers and prospectors in the heyday of the Witwatersrand gold rush.

Go West Heritage Week

The Go West Festival is a celebration of heritage, arts and culture organized by the West Rand District Municipality in the West Rand District of Gauteng, South Africa. It began with a photography competition, a talent search and a comedy showcase in order to enhance skills within the community.
