

ELIZABETH MORR. DESIGNS

- ABOUT THE FOUNDER

- Lebo Mojaki lives her life as she alone intends, making Christ her pillar always. The trials of unemployment as many South Africans can attest and the successes of her parent's businesses gave birth to an extraordinary character, daring, free, and ahead of her time. Faithful friendships and loving marriage to her husband and father of her only child Eddie Mojaki, her thirst for culture, discovery, and spending 3 years in rural Lesotho learning ways and traditions of the Basotho nation shaped her personality. Jewelry designs freed from constraints and superfluity tweaked with diverse African cultural accents, created a visionary allure that has become timeless and yet wildly modern. Pearls, and different stones paired with high-quality silk thread have created a signature style... That of a sophisticated woman, a pioneer whose lifestyle and multiple facets forged the values of the House she founded, and who remains an inspiration for all women.

- ELIZABETH MORR

- Elizabeth Morr was founded on the 26th of January 2016, by Lebo Mojaki who currently runs the business with her daughter Deany Mojaki. Every Elizabeth Morr piece is hand-crafted with utmost precision and care. We give attention to detail; from the superior materials we use to the final stitch that knits together our masterpiece. Every piece is made by a community of women who give their time and love to create yet another work of art.
- Elizabeth Morr uses an ancient technique of jewelry making, which is exhibited also on how African hair is plaited using yarn. The technique was passed down generations from Lebo's grandmother (maternal) to her mother, which has been passed down to Lebo's daughter.
- Elizabeth Morr brand is named after Lebo's mother, Elizabeth Maureen who was nicknamed Morr (Sis Morr/ Mamma Morr) by those who were close to her. Mamma Morr passed away on 5th June 2004, she was a woman of excellence, a disciplinarian, and very big on giving, a loving wife and a mother of 4 children and 4 grandchildren. Elizabeth Maureen was very neat, her house and her garden were the neatest in the neighborhood, and all her beautiful traits became the DNA of the brand that you see today.
- Elizabeth Morr is a proud maker of Shaka iLembe crowns and the crowns and neckpieces South Africa enjoyed on The Wife S3 and many other shows including Black is King by Beyoncé.
