OFF BEAT CULINARY TOUR AND AFRICAN CUISINE

Joburg is a Melting Pot of so many different cultures from different parts of Africa and different parts of the world, one of the other forms of getting to know a culture is by taking a deep dive and emerge one's self with its food; to get the opportunity to sit down and break bread while learning a new lifestyle in the Provess. Food gives you an Idean and meaning behind a certain culture and it's history and a reason why a culture behaves a certain way.

Styles of food differ from time to time, some become very modernised compared to the original cultural dishes of a certain people, the whys of why certain ingredients is used throughout every dish always a story behind it.

This tour starts at FordsBurg which has to be one of the most colourful spaces Joburg has to offer, very rich with historical presence. Mahatma Ghandi spent Most of his time around this region while staying in Joburg for over 20 years in the journey of establishing the Satyagraha passive resistance. The food at Fordsburg is nothing Short of authentic, you are served by people who present their Particular culture in its truest form, for example we visit a couple of turkey restaurants, Egypt and Egyptian Cuisine, Indian food, Pakistani they exude a deep presence of sweet Culture we normal use it as a stop for Dessert, Bangladeshi food, Malay food,

This tour literally takes you from one spot to the next from restaurant to street food culture to culture. It is a beautiful walk from street to street, the tour also takes a Detour to a Juice shop that specialises in Sugar cane and other fruit mixtures, juice is tailor made on the Spot.

The Culinary tour ends at the vocalist Chefs spot where they get to have a sit down and reflect on the rest of the tour while the Vocalist Chef prepares 3 course meal.

Lunch is served by an Award winning Chef who's known for her 3 coarse meal of African dishe and a Contemporary Twist. Her Menu is also vast besides the above Mentioned she can also tailor make dishes.
